

Jamie Bradford

Director Operations, Materials Management Group

Director, ICHCA Australia

Jamie Bradford is a career logistician experienced in all modes and sectors of the global transport and logistics industry. Jamie is approaching 40 years' experience in transport and logistics commencing with ships agency and freight forwarding and progressing onto the implementation and management of remote construction project supply chains focussing on the resources sector.

Applying holistic logistics management from concept to operational stages, Jamie's ongoing focus ensures an optimum supply chain meets statutory requirements within safety, schedule, budget and sustainably principles.

Jamie is well travelled, having visited over 60 countries in several capacities dealing with stakeholders including local communities, defence, government agencies, industry, port authorities and logistics service providers.

Jamie demonstrates ongoing commitment to the Australian logistics community as evidenced through voluntary past contributions including a past State Chair of CILTA (WA Section), Main Roads Western Australia Working Groups, and the Australian Chamber of Commerce and Industry Incoterms® 2020 Formation Group.

Qualifications include the first person in Western Australia to be accredited as Certified Professional Logistician (CPL) plus an MBA in Maritime and Logistics Management. His logistics knowledge, experience and ongoing industry involvement is evidenced by his industry peers awarding him the Chartered Institute of Logistics and Transport Australia (CILTA) 2012 Australian T&L Professional of the Year.
